Early identification helps children succeed at home and in school.
You might notice your child exhibiting one or more of the following:

Occupational Therapy (OT) Concerns

- Difficulty with handwriting or drawing
- Trouble with fine motor tasks (buttoning, using scissors, utensils)
- Challenges in gross motor skills (running, jumping, balance)
- Poor attention or difficulty following instructions
- Sensory sensitivities (avoiding certain textures, sounds, or lights)
- Difficulty with self-regulation or managing emotions
- Trouble with daily living skills (dressing, feeding, personal hygiene)

Speech & Language Therapy (SLT) Concerns

- Difficulty pronouncing words clearly or being understood
- Limited vocabulary or trouble forming sentences
- Difficulty following verbal instructions
- Trouble expressing needs or ideas
- Challenges in social communication (taking turns, responding in conversation)
- Stuttering, voice issues, or unusual speech patterns
- Difficulty with early literacy skills (rhyming, letter recognition, pre-reading skills)

If any of these sound familiar, early detection and intervention can make a significant difference. At ACPN Mirdif, we offer a comprehensive, multidisciplinary screening conducted by licensed Occupational Therapists (OTs) and Speech-Language Therapists (SLTs). Our approach ensures a thorough assessment of your child and family's needs
